Message from the President

Greetings, fellow shareholders,

Thank you to everyone who joined us for the Annual Meeting. It was wonderful to connect with you, hear your questions and ideas, and share updates on the Corporation's progress. We have posted responses to shareholder questions online and appreciate your continued engagement.

> As BSNC continues to grow, we have more opportunities to invest in our shareholders, our communities, our culture and heritage, and the next generation.
> - CINDY MASSIE

Congratulations to incumbent directors Bobby Evans and Roy Ashenfelter on their re-election, and to newly elected directors Roy Agloinga, Neal Foster and Don Stiles. I look forward to working with the Board as we continue advancing BSNC's mission. We also had the opportunity to recognize many Elders and outstanding young people through our awards. Congratulations to youth award recipients Brooke Anungazuk, Haylen O'Connor, and Rena Kiyutelluk, as well as Cheryl Ongtowasruk, recipient of the Tim Towarak Memorial Scholarship. Their accomplishments are inspiring, and I look forward to seeing what they achieve in the years ahead.

BSNC had an exceptional year, and we are pleased to share the results of our continued success with our shareholders. In August, the Beringia Settlement Trust Board declared a regular distribution of $13.50 per share and a $1,600 Elder distribution. Combined with the special distributions announced earlier this year, this equates to $22.25 per share and $2,100 in total distributions for eligible Elders this year.

The Trust Board also approved a special $7.5 million contribution to the Beringia Settlement Trust Permanent Fund, bringing the fund to approximately $95 million. Growing this long-term fund is an important investment in our future. By preserving the principal and using its earnings to support shareholder benefits, we can strengthen the Trust's ability to provide meaningful distributions for generations to come.

Last year, shareholders reached an important milestone by approving the resolution to open enrollment to lineal descendants and missed enrollees. Approximately 2,500 descendants have applied so far, marking significant progress in this initiative. We remain committed to moving this process forward while responsibly planning for BSNC's future.

As BSNC continues to grow, we have more opportunities to invest in our shareholders, our communities, our culture and heritage, and the next generation. This progress is made possible by the dedication of our employees, the leadership of our Board, and the continued trust and support of our shareholders.

Thank you for being part of BSNC's success. We remain focused on responsibly growing the Corporation, delivering meaningful benefits, and creating opportunities for Our People for generations to come.

Quyaana,

Cynthia A. Massie

2026 Youth Award Recipients

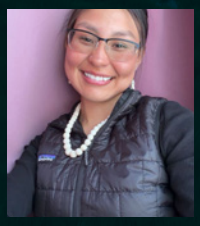

BSNC is pleased to announce the recipients of its 2026 Youth Awards, which recognize young people whose contributions strengthen their families, communities and culture. Haylen O'Connor, Rena Kiyutelluk, and Brooke Anungazuk were honored at the Annual Meeting of Shareholders in Nome.

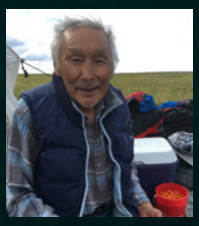

Young Provider Award

Haylen Thomas Lonnie O'Connor
Presented in honor of Tom Gray

A BSNC shareholder from Nome, Haylen O'Connor participates in subsistence activities year-round and shares his harvests with family, Elders and others throughout the Bering Strait region. He also takes others hunting, fishing and gathering, passing along knowledge he learned in part from his grandfather, the late Tom Gray. His dedication helps carry these traditions forward for future generations.

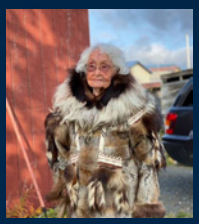

Youth Culture Bearer Award

Rena "Tamaak" Kiyutelluk Presented in honor of Rena Kuzuguk and Morris Kiyutelluk

A BSNC shareholder from Shishmaref, Tamaak teaches Inupiaq to young children at the community's Immersion Head Start. She shares traditional foods with her family and community and continues to learn cultural practices through classes and Inupiaq festivals. Tamaak learned from her grandparents, the late Morris Kiyutelluk and Mildred Kiyutelluk, and was raised by her late great-grandmother, Rena Kuzuguk. She is currently learning to make hard-sole mukluks.

Young Leader Award

Brooke Anungazuk
Presented in honor of Elizabeth "Betty" Anagick

BSNC shareholder Brooke Anungazuk received the inaugural Young Leader Award for her commitment to culture, community and service. As an ERSEA Specialist at Kawerak, she supports children, families, and teachers and helps bring Native language and culture into Nome Early Head Start classrooms.

Anungazuk was crowned Miss Arctic Native Brotherhood in 2025 and was named first runner-up and Miss Congeniality at the World Eskimo-Indian Olympics. While grieving the loss of loved ones, including her seven-year-old brother, Killian, she used her platform to advocate for health and wellness, youth empowerment, Elder care, and suicide prevention.

Tim Towarak Memorial Scholarship Awardee

BSNC announces Aapiaq Cheryl Ongtowasruk as the 2026 recipient of the Beringia Settlement Trust Tim Towarak Memorial Scholarship. The $10,000 competitive, merit-based scholarship is awarded annually to one high-achieving student enrolled at an accredited college or university. It honors the late Tim Towarak and his tireless advocacy for Alaska Native people.

Aapiaq is the daughter of Gerri and the late Ron Ongtowasruk. Her maternal grandparents are the late Vivien (Oxereok) and James Olin, and her paternal grandparents are Arlene Soxie and the late Patrick Ongtowasruk. She grew up in Wales before moving to Nome at age 12. Aapiaq credits her parents' encouragement with giving her the confidence to pursue new opportunities and continue forward in academic spaces where she sometimes questioned whether she belonged.

After attending Mt. Edgecumbe High School, Aapiaq earned a bachelor's degree in K–12 art education and a master's degree in education with an emphasis in teacher leadership from Fort Lewis College. She is now pursuing a doctorate in educational leadership for social justice at Loyola Marymount University and expects to graduate in May 2027.

Aapiaq works as a curriculum specialist for the Aleut Community of St. Paul Island, developing educational materials grounded in community, culture, and Indigenous ways of knowing. Her doctoral research examines the knowledge and skills shared through traditional practices and arts and the role of intergenerational learning in supporting Indigenous youth.

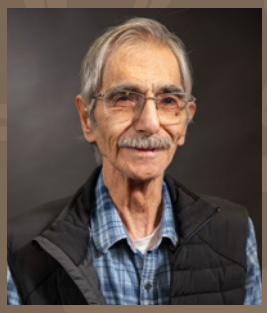

Aapiaq lives in Anchorage with her husband, Kenneth "PhrAustie" Hughes IV, and stepdaughter, Nova. Watching Nova grow has deepened Aapiaq's commitment to understanding how knowledge shared across generations can strengthen Indigenous youth, families, and communities.

In October 2026, Tummassak of Shishmaref and Edward Angalook of Unalakleet were brought home more than a century after they died while attending the Carlisle Indian Industrial School in Pennsylvania. They were among 12 students included in the 2026 repatriation effort. The U.S. Army's Carlisle Barracks disinterment project began in 2017 at the request of students' families and Tribes.

At approximately age 12, Tummassak was taken from Alaska aboard the U.S. Revenue Cutter Bear with six other Alaska Native youth. She arrived at Carlisle on Nov. 14, 1897, and died of tuberculosis on April 8, 1900, at age 15. Carlisle records also spell her name "Tomiclock," while her gravestone reads "Tomicock."

Angalook was raised by renowned Unalakleet reindeer herder Sinrock Mary. He was one of four students who traveled from Golovnin Bay and arrived at Carlisle on Nov. 23, 1903. He died of tuberculosis on Sept. 24, 1905, at age 20. His gravestone spells his name "Angelook."

Nyché Skavaq Sivulliuqti Andrew, a BSNC descendant and 2022 Young Provider Award recipient, is part of the Alaska Native Heritage Center's Research Team, which was contacted by the U.S. Army Office of Army Cemeteries to help identify the students' families and home communities. As part of this collaborative research effort, a photograph of Tummassak's chin tattoo helped the team recognize a connection to Andrew's family: her great-great-grandmother, Mary Agugaq Avessuk of Shishmaref, wore a similar tattoo.

A Celebration of Life for Edward was held Thursday, Oct. 1, at the Covenant Church in Unalakleet. On Oct. 4, Tummassak's family and community gathered at the Shishmaref Lutheran Church to honor her. BSNC thanks Andrew, the Alaska Native Heritage Center, the families and communities, and everyone who helped bring Tummassak and Edward Angalook home and honor their lives.

Kya McAlister

It has been eight years since BSNC last featured shareholder Kya McAlister (Nan'u'raq) in the Agluktuk, when she had just graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy and received her Naval Aviation Wings of Gold in Corpus Christi, Texas. Since then, McAlister has served as a Navy instructor pilot, flying the P-8A, T-44C, and T-54A and deploying to Europe and the Middle East in service to her country.

One of McAlister's favorite memories from her time in the Navy was eating salmonberries in Norway during a P-8A deployment. It immediately reminded her of picking berries as a child in Stebbins, a small piece of home that followed her across the world.

McAlister's time in the Navy has been incredibly rewarding, and she is proud to have served her country. She is grateful that she will continue serving in the Navy Reserve as she begins the next chapter of her aviation career with Delta Air Lines.

Life has also changed in ways beyond her career. McAlister is now married to her husband, Greg, and they have a son, Casey. Starting a family has made her appreciate her roots and the support of the people and communities that shaped her even more.

Her connection to Stebbins and the Bering Strait region has remained a constant throughout her journey. Her culture and community have kept her grounded, even when her career has taken her far from Alaska. Now that she has more time to reconnect, McAlister is excited to find meaningful ways to give back to the community that has given her so much. Congratulations, Kya!

BSNC continues to seek addresses for shareholders who may have funds on hold, and attempts to identify the next of kin of deceased shareholders. Currently, dividends are being held for BSNC shareholders with outdated contact information. BSNC seeks addresses so they or their descendants can receive the dividend distributions.

IF YOU KNOW THE WHEREABOUTS OF SOMEONE LISTED
please contact BSNC's Shareholder Department at (907) 443-4303 or (907) 443-8110, or email shareholders@beringstraits.com.

IF YOU HAVE BEEN CONTACTED BY THE SHAREHOLDER DEPARTMENT
please respond to their requests because you may be entitled to a dividend distribution. Help BSNC ensure that all shareholders receive their dividends.

Shareholder Name and Address Change Form

BSNC shareholders should update the Shareholder Records Department directly in writing anytime their mailing address or name changes. Address changes for shareholders under the age of 18 must be signed by the minor's custodian. Mail in this form or send a signed letter to BSNC with your social security number, date of birth and new address to: Bering Straits Native Corporation, P.O. Box 1008, Nome, Alaska 99762.

For name changes, BSNC requires that you attach a legal document with your new name, such as a copy of a court record, valid government ID, marriage certificate or divorce decree.

BSNC Congratulates Descendants on Receiving 2026 AFN President's Awards

Inspired by the curiosity of friends and teammates who wanted to learn about his hometown, Ungwiluk taught himself videography and created a YouTube channel dedicated to sharing authentic life in Gambell. His videos highlight Alaska Native culture, subsistence hunting and gathering, and the resilience of his community. Ungwiluk soon realized that his videos also served to inspire and motivate youth to learn and practice their cultural traditions. Through storytelling, he educates audiences around the world while preserving cultural traditions and instilling pride within his community.

Darrin Topkok was honored with the Glenn Godfrey Law Enforcement Award. Topkok is an Alaska State Trooper whose life and work are deeply rooted in Western Alaska. His commitment to public service began at home in 2020, serving as a Village Public Safety Officer (VPSO) in the communities that supported and shaped him. He later served as a "Roving" VPSO throughout the region, an experience that deepened his dedication to public safety and inspired him to pursue a career with the Alaska State Troopers.

In May of 2026, Topkok completed the Alaska State Trooper Academy, officially earning his badge and title as an Alaska State Trooper. For Topkok, wearing the uniform is far more than a profession; it represents a commitment to making a meaningful difference in the lives of Alaskans. He remains goal-driven to serve his state with humility, strength, and integrity. Above all, Topkok is guided by his devotion to his two children in Nome and the strong friendships built throughout the town and surrounding region. Grounded by his heritage and driven by a continuous effort toward personal growth, Topkok remains dedicated to building a safer, stronger future for the next generation, serving Alaska with heart, duty, and purpose.

Congratulations on this incredible achievement, Wallace and Darrin. Quyaana for all that you do!
